

Racism as Trauma

"What helping professionals need to know"

Tuesday, October 11th

9:30am-11:30am (break) 2:30pm-4:30pm CST

DETAILS

Online Format via Zoom:

- Registration Cost: $75
- Registration Link: Click Here
- CEU'S provided

AUDIENCE

Front-line workers & Leadership in:

- K-12 Education
- Higher Education
- Child & Family Welfare
- Behavioral/Mental Health
- Criminal Justice
- Medicine & Healthcare

THE DISCUSSION

Over the past 30 years, educators, child welfare, mental health, criminal justice, and other service professionals have been introduced to the evolving theory of trauma-informed practices. Care tends to focus on facilitating an individual's or family's recovery and resiliency, but what if the very country you live in is traumagenic?

Join Fran Kaplan, EdD, MSW of Nurturing Diversity Partners and Sonya Thorn, MSOL, LCSW of the Nurturing Families Center as they explore the history and impacts of racial hierarchy in the United States and what helping professionals can do to make a difference.

